

*Bert A Dannenberg
moved to Escondido
Cal*

BERT A. DANNENBERG

Bert A. Dannenberg was born August 26, 1881, at Aurora, Texas. The family moved to California about 1885, making their home at Sutter. He graduated from Sutter High School and attended medical school in San Francisco. The college was destroyed by the 1906 earthquake. He went to Chicago to attend Northwestern University Medical School, graduating in June, 1909.

He moved to Heber City, Utah, in November, 1909, and married Lacy Turner September 21, 1910.

In 1918 he enlisted in the Army Medical Corps. Trained at Yale University as a bacteriologist, he was at Camp Crane, Allentown, Pa., and later at an overseas camp when the flu epidemic hit the eastern United States. Several doctors were sent to Phoenixville, Pa., to assist there. He contracted the flu and was not expected to recover. Lacy was called to Phoenixville. The armistice was signed while he was very ill. On December 21, 1918, he was given a medical discharge and returned to Heber City.

325

325

In 1925 he bought the Mark Jeff home and established the Heber Hospital. His brother, Dr. T. A. Dannenberg, moved to Heber City in 1927 and bought an interest in the hospital.

Bert was a member of the Wasatch County School Board. He was the first president of the Heber Lions Club, also the first president of the Escondido Lions Club.

Winters were too severe for Bert's heart condition, so, in 1935, the family moved to Escondido, California, where he practiced until his retirement in 1948.

There are three sons: Bert, and the twins, Doyle and Dale.

325

The Heber Hospital which was begun in 1932 by Drs. T. A. and Bert A. Dannenberg. It is now the Nielson Memorial Hospital in honor of the late Dr. Karl O. Nielson.

12/- Wal St

POST

New Haven Conn.

8-10-18

Dear May:

This town is
some warm place, so hot
that we are bringing out very night. We work
from 8 to 5, drill me
from 5 to 7, study till 11 at night. I will be a great help to me when I get back home. I expect to be here about 6 weeks
then we go somewhere, we
never know when we go.
J. B. Dannenberg

CARD

YALE STATION

Address Only

Miss May Coleman
Heber.

Mac

THE FAMILY DOCTOR.

Dr. Bert Dannenberg
Founder of Heber Hospital
1925

DOCTOR BERT DANNENBERG.

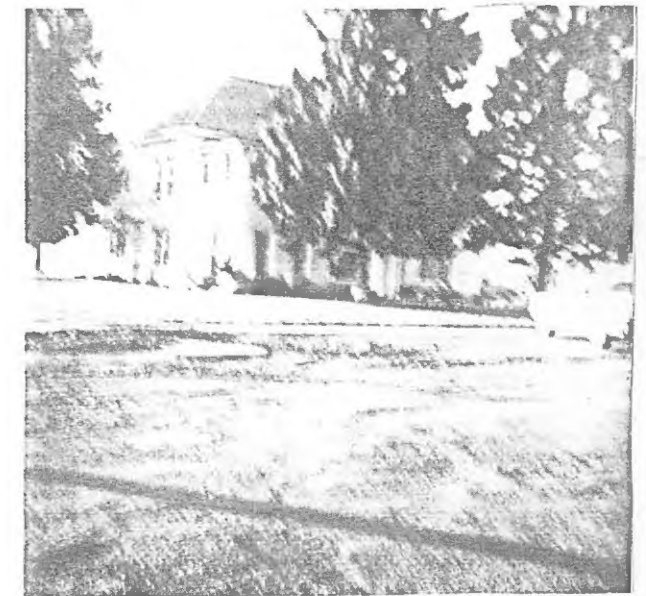

Was born Aug 26, 1881, in Aroura, Texas. He attended Medical School at College of San Francisco until it was destroyed by fire during the great earthquake in 1906. He then went to Northwestern University at Chicago, Ill. where he graduated in 1909.

He came to Heber City in Nov, 1909 and opened an office. About one year later he married Lacy Turner they bought a home and lived here for more than twenty years. Doctor Bert experienced the real hardships of a country doctor, (Horse and Buggy Days) In winter our locality furnished many nights of 20-30 degrees below zero temperatures and snow knee deep in town and fence high in the country, but the bells on Doc's one horse open sleigh could be heard as he dashed across town toward Charleston or Wallburg some 19 miles away to bring a baby or break a fever. (diphtheria, typhoid and small pox) was still quite prevalent)

In 1918 World War I, he enlisted in the Army Medical Corp. trained at Yale University as a bacteriologist and was stationed at Camp Crane, Allentown, P.A. He contracted flu and pneumonia and was in serious condition even after his recovery. He was given a medical discharge Dec, 21, 1918, and returned home and picked up his practice.

In 1925 he bought the Mark Jeff home a fine old two story rock building and started to make a reality of his dream. A hospital for his community. It was such a success that he soon had to have help. He asked his brother T.A. Dannenberg to join him, they did some remodeling and bought some fine equipment but it was short lived, the overwork and use of ether brought on pneumonia and Bert was advised to go to a lower and warmer climate. In 1932 Doctor, Lacy and the three boys moved to Escondido, California, where Doctor practiced a number of years. He is now retired.

A Valentine to this guy, The Founder of THE HEBER HOSPITAL 1925.

121- Wall St

POST

New Haven

Conn.

8-10-18

Dear May:

This town is
some warm place, so hot
that we are ringing out every night. We work from 8 to 5, don't we know a day, study till 11 at night. I hit the work fine, it will be
a great help to me when I get back home. I expect
to be here about 6 weeks
then we go somewhere, we
never know when we go.
J. B. Dannenberg

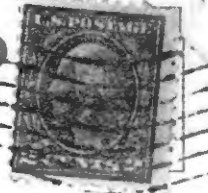

BY EDWARD R. JUDD CO., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

CARD

YALE
STATION

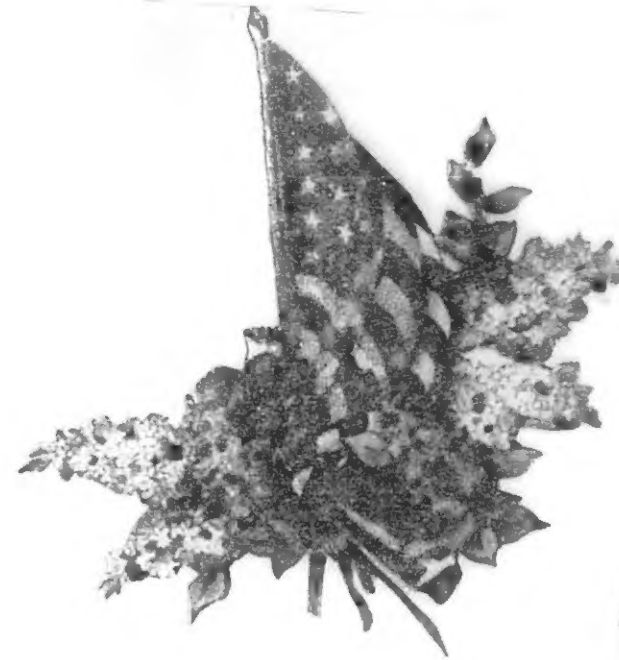

Address Only

Miss May Coleman

Heber.

HlaC

Dr. Bert Dannenberg
Founder of Heber Hospital
1925

DOCTOR BERT DANNENBERG.

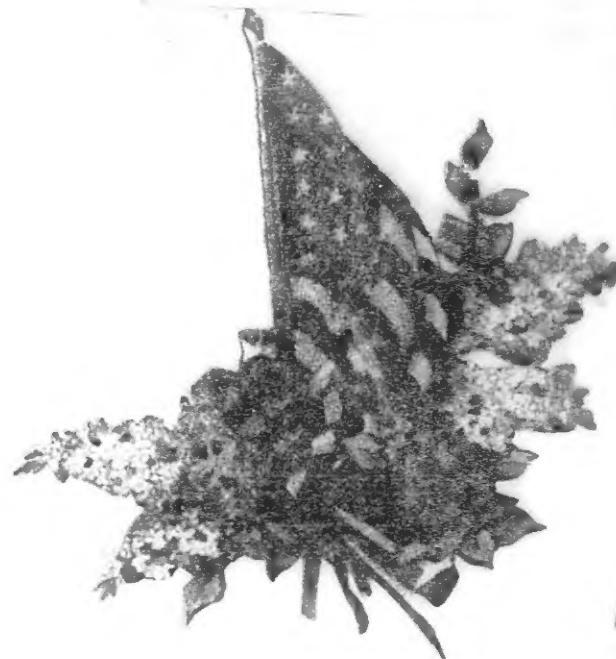

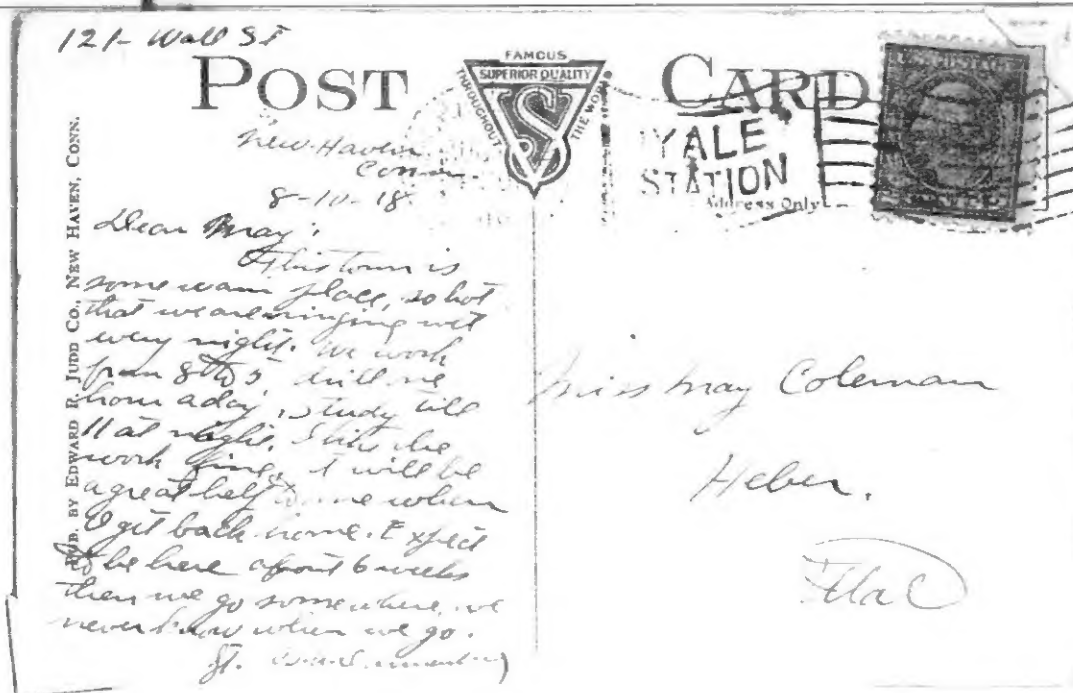

Was born Aug 26, 1881, in Aroura, Texas. He attended Medical School at College of San Francisco until it was destroyed by fire during the great earthquake in 1906. He then went to Northwestern University at Chicago, Ill. where he graduated in 1909.

He came to Heber City in Nov, 1909 and opened an office. About one year later he married Lacy Turner they bought a home and lived here for more than twenty years. Doctor Bert experienced the real hardships of a country doctor, (Horse and Buggy Days) In winter our locality furnished many nights of 20-30 degrees below zero temperatures and snow knee deep in town and fence high in the county, but the bells on Doc's one horse open sleigh could be heard as he dashed across town toward Charleston or Willsburg some 19 miles away to bring a baby or break a fever. (diphtheria, typhoid and small pox) was still quite prevalent)

In 1918 World War I, he enlisted in the Army Medical Corp. trained at Yale University as a bacteriologist and was stationed at Camp Crane, Allentown, P.A. He contracted flu and pneumonia and was in serious condition even after his recovery. He was given a medical discharge Dec, 21, 1918, and returned home and picked up his practice.

In 1925 he bought the Lark Jeff home a fine old two story rock building and started to make a reality of his dream, a hospital for his community. It was such a success that he soon had to have help. He asked his brother T.A. Dannenberg to join him, they did some remodeling and bought some fine equipment but it was short lived, the overwork and use of ether brought on pneumonia and Bert was advised to go to a lower and warmer climate. In 1932 Doctor, Lacy and the three boys moved to Escondido, California, where Doctor practiced a number of years. He is now retired.

Dr. Bert Dannenberg
Founder of Heber Hospital
1925

DOCTOR BERT DANNENBERG.

W
Was born Aug 26, 1881, in Aroure, Texas. He attended Medical School at College of San Francisco until it was destroyed by fire during the great earthquake in 1906. He then went to Northwestern University at Chicago, Ill. where he graduated in 1909.

He came to Heber City in Nov, 1909 and opened an office. About one year later he married Lacy Turner they bought a home and lived here for more than twenty years. Doctor Bert experienced the real hardships of a country doctor, (Horse and Buggy Days) In winter our locality furnished many nights of 20-30 degrees below zero temperatures and snow knee deep in town and fence high in the country, but the bells on Doc's one horse open sleigh could be heard as he dashed across town toward Charleston or Wallsburg some 19 miles away to bring a baby or break a fever. (diphtheria, typhoid and small pox) was still quite prevalent)

In 1918 World War I, he enlisted in the Army Medical Corp. trained at Yale University as a bacteriologist and was stationed at Camp Crane, Allentown, P.A. He contracted flu and pneumonia and was in serious condition even after his recovery. He was given a medical discharge Dec, 21, 1918, and returned home and picked up his practice.

In 1925 he bought the Mark Jeff home a fine old two story rock building and started to make a reality of his dream. A hospital for his community. It was such a success that he soon had to have help. He asked his brother T.A. Dannenberg to join him, they did some remodeling and bought some fine equipment but it was short lived, the overwork and use of ether brought on pneumonia and Bert was advised to go to a lower and warmer climate. In 1932 Doctor, Lacy and the three boys moved to Escondido, California, where Doctor practiced a number of years. He is now retired.

